

Mr. Hassan Hamoodh

Non - Executive Director

Hassan Hamoodh is an investment and economic research professional who holds an MA (Honours) in Economics and Law from the University of Edinburgh, United Kingdom. He has also completed Level I of the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) Programme.

Mr. Hamoodh currently serves as Senior Manager, Investment and Advisory Services at the Maldives Pension Administration Office (MPAO). In this capacity, he directs the development of investment frameworks, Strategic Asset Allocation, and portfolio optimisation, while overseeing due diligence on domestic and prospective cross-border investment proposals. His responsibilities also include governing investment risk and performance functions in accordance with the Statement of Investment Principles, regulatory mandates, and internal control requirements, as well as leading the advisory and product development initiatives of MPAO.

Prior to assuming his current role, Mr. Hamoodh served as Manager, Portfolio Analysis at MPAO from October 2024 to October 2026. During this period, he contributed to the development of institutional risk and performance measurement frameworks and conducted analytical assessments covering portfolio risk exposures, scenario analysis, and stress-testing. He previously served as Manager, Research and Analytics from August 2023 to October 2024, where he contributed to the groundwork for international market expansion and conducted research into emerging asset classes and pension administration patterns. He also authored a strategic paper on internal asset management that resulted in proposed legislative amendments to the Pension Act.

Before joining MPAO, he worked at Transparency Maldives from August 2020 to August 2023 as Senior Project Coordinator and Project Coordinator. His work included strategic initiatives relating to corporate governance and accountability within State-Owned Enterprises, institutional transparency, and the national regulatory framework for the Right to Information. He also provided financial oversight for donor-funded projects and collaborated with government bodies, consultants, and local and international stakeholders.

Mr. Hamoodh also served as a Research Assistant at the Maldives Monetary Authority (MMA) during the early years of his career. At MMA, he managed the coordination and delivery of the central bank's economic publications, undertook macroeconomic analysis of domestic and international markets, and contributed to the central bank's professional opinion on the national budget by evaluating historical trends against budgeted fiscal projections.
